

WILDCAT WEEKLY

A Press Release from the Wildcat Post - Week of June 1, 2020

GO WILDCATS!

BY COACH CASTRO:

After a stellar year of competition and sportsmanship, the WSOC High School has been recognized as a full member of the CIF in good standing. Additionally, we were invited to apply for membership into the Western Athletic Conference, and were voted in just this week. The league is excited to welcome us into a competitive year as we continue to build our athletic program thanks to the tireless efforts of volunteer coaches and students who have shown their Wildcat spirit. Congratulations!

ELECTIONS

BY LILY LIEBERMAN:

The Student Council Presidential Elections drew an extraordinary voter turnout, with 94% of the student body submitting their ballots! Juniors Emma and Isabel, and Lauren and Sebastian waged a campaign that spoke so strongly to the interests and needs of the student body, that there was no winner - the race was even. Because of this incredible result, both sets of candidates have agreed to form a coalition to run the Student Council next year so that all students are represented through their collective efforts. Thank you to all students showing such school spirit! Be sure to follow the Student Council instagram for updates @wsocstudentcouncil. Congratulations all!

PROM-A-PALOOZA

The faculty is so excited to celebrate the school year with students at the Prom-a-Palooza car parade on June 11 from 5 - 7pm! Although the drive-through experience can't replace the events we've missed, it will provide the opportunity to be together again before summer begins. Dust off those fancy clothes and watch for more information to come!

SENIOR PLAY

BY KYRA SLUTZKY:

Despite an unconventional year, the seniors are keeping the tradition of a senior play. On June 10th, the class will be performing their rendition of She Kills Monsters, adapted for a Zoom performance. The seniors and director Gina Garrison have been improvising and collaborating on rehearsing while working with this new technology to present the piece. With the help of backgrounds and graphic designs, the seniors have created a virtual stage for their play. Stay tuned for login information about the 7pm login on June 10th!

MARIONETTES

BY BROOKE WENGER:

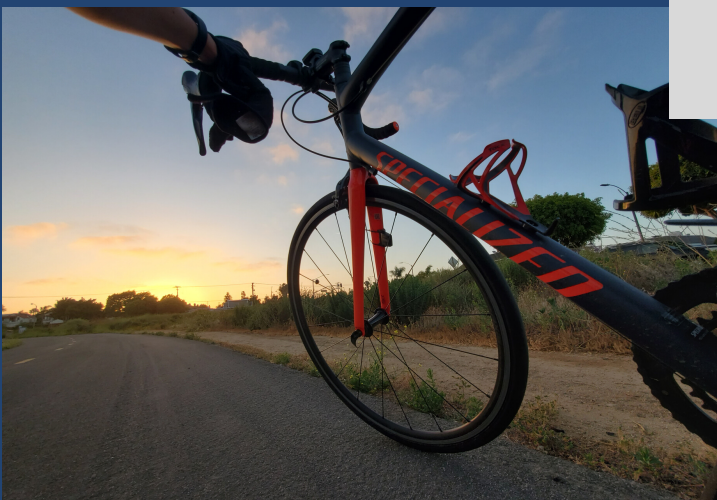

Every year the freshman class creates handmade marionettes, then perform an original play for the end-of-year assembly. But with quarantine, the current freshman experience has been a bit different. Freshman Venice Shoda says, "Making my marionette at home is difficult because of the time crunch and the delay... However, I am also grateful and really enjoying being able to learn and figure out how to progress on my marionette on my own." This year, the Freshman class is creating short skits featuring their not-quite-complete marionettes, and other dolls. Watch for the short videos, coming on June 12.

100 MILES

BY LAUREN O'NEILL:

The 100 Mile Challenge engages students in bringing our community together through competition and encouragement. The goal is to stay active while staying safe. Student participation and engagement in two categories feet and wheels, has been outstanding. Mr. Brennan says, "Competition is awesome because we can push each other to limits unknown." The juniors are in the lead with 382.05 miles, with freshman not far behind with 217.85 miles.
